TWO CENTS

MID-YEAR GRADUATING CLASS TO HOLD INTERESTING EXERCISES

Class Play And Class Exercises To Be Held Thursday Evening

ALL SEATS HAVE BEEN SOLD

The mid-year class of 1919, of the Charleroi high school, consisting of nineteen members, which is to graduate on Monday evening next, at the high school auditorium, will hold its class exercises tomorrow evening. The programme will consist of the three-act comedy, "The Arrival of Kitty," together with the usual class night exercises. Considerable time has been spent in preparing the play, under the direction of Mrs. Ada T. Hill, and an evening's rare enjoyment is assured. Reserved seats were placed on sale at the high school last Monday afternoon, and it was not long before the house was sold out. Consequently, no more seats are available for this performance, and no standing room will be sold. It may be that the play will be repeated some evening next week, if satisfactory arrangements can be made. Due announcement will be made through the columns of The Mail. The cast, together with a brief synopsis of the play, is as follows:

The scene opens in the office and temporary dining-room of the Halcyon House, with Ting in charge, and Sam, a porter. Bobbie Baxter, pursuing this little love affair with Jane against the opposition of her uncle, William Winkler, has occasion to disguise himself in female costume, and is mistaken for Kitty, an actress, and close friend of Winkler's, to the vast confusion of everything and everybody.

Cast of Characters:
William Winkler, Eugene Byrne.
Bobbie Baxter, Allison Lowstutter.
Ting, Raymond Spahr.
Sam, Jules Monack.
Aunt Jane, Ellen Clark.
Jane, Grace Anderson.
Suzette, Anne Stephens.
Kitty, Ethel Goldsmith.
Benjamin More, Christopher Morgan.

The Protected Home Circle established the local circle 22 years ago and all the charter members are paying the same rate today. The P. H. C. never raises its rates, it pays disability protection, old age benefits, give immediate full insurance for face value of policy and pays old age benefits.

HOME COMING PROSPECTS ARE NOT VERY BRIGHT

Miss Jessie Cyle is in receipt of a letter from Smith Frye, in which he gives an account of the campaigns in France, Belgium and Germany, to which he took part. He thinks their prospects of getting home soon are not very good. He saw Bill Yates on the Verdun front, and met other Charleroi boys at Chateau-Thierry and other points. All of them were in good shape. So far as the French girls are concerned he says those in the good old U. S. A. are good enough for him.

"GROSS INCOMES" AND REVENUE TAX

Collectors of Internal Revenue are receiving frequent enquiries as to the amount to be included under "gross income" in their income tax returns.

In making out his return of gross income, the taxpayer is required to account for practically every dollar he received during 1918. The following items must be reported:

Salaries, wages and commissions for personal services, including bonuses.

Interest received on notes, and deposits in banks including savings banks.

Dividends on stocks, whether received in cash or stock.

Only dividends paid out of earnings or profits accrued since March 1, 1918, are taxable, but dividends are deemed to be distributed out of the most recently accumulated earnings.

Profits resulting from purchases and sales of property, real or personal. If the property was purchased before March 1, 1918, the profit is based on the difference between the selling price and the fair market price or value as of March 1, 1918.

Profit from stock market transactions.

Income received from fiduciaries, that is amounts received from income of estates, trusts, etc., through trustees, administrators or executors.

Net partnership profits, whether divided or distributed or not.

Royalties from mines, oil and gas wells, patents, copyrights and franchises.

The following items are not taxable, and need not be included in the return.
Property received as a gift or by will or inheritance.
It must be understood, however, that the income derived from such property is taxable.
Proceeds of life insurance policies.
Returns of premiums on life endowment and annuity policies.
Interest on securities issued under the provisions of the Federal Farm (Continued on Page 4)

Donora Is Against All Bolsheviki Meetings

At a special meeting of the borough council of Donora, held on Friday last, an ordinance was presented and adopted which makes it unlawful for any person, association, firm or corporation to give lectures, free speeches, meetings or entertainments within the limits of Donora borough without first having obtained from the Burgess a permit for so doing. No charge will be levied for the permit, and the same will be granted to all provided the purpose for which such gatherings held is lawful and not detrimental to the safety and welfare of the citizens of Donora borough.

The Donora council passed this ordinance because it believed that the present spread of anarchy and Bolshevism throughout the country should be combated by every possible means. The recent circulation of seditious literature and the holding of Bolsheviki meetings in this section of the valley has caused the Donora authorities to fear that propaganda work might be under way there.

The ordinance provides that from and after the passage of the measure it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or association to have, give or engage in any lecture, gathering, assemblage, speech, meeting or entertainment, or to permit their property to be used for the purpose anywhere within the limits of the borough, without first having obtained a permit therefor from the Burgess of Donora. The Burgess can issue such a permit if he is satisfied that the meeting is for a lawful purpose and is not detrimental to the safety and welfare of the citizens of the borough.

The penalty for violation is a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $100.00, together with the costs of and the recent circulation of seditious literature and the holding of Bolsheviki meetings in this section of the valley has caused the Donora authorities to fear that propaganda work might be under way there.

COUNCIL DISPOSES OF ROUTINE BUSINESS AT REGULAR MEETING

DAYLIGHT SAVING BILL IS STILL IN FORCE

Failure of congress before adjournment on Tuesday to take any action on pending bills providing for the repeal of the daylight saving act, made certain that the nation's clocks again would be advanced an hour during the period between the last Monday in March and the last Sunday in October.

COMMISSION WOULD HAVE GREAT POWER

Legislation to permanently continue the Commission of Public Safety and Defense as the Commission of Public Welfare of Pennsylvania was presented in the Senate at Harrisburg on Tuesday by Senator T. Larry Eyre of Chester county. The measure has the backing of the Sprout administration, and is scheduled to go through the members of the commission would be the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Treasurer, Auditor General and Adjutant General. They would name a secretary, executive director, treasurer and other necessary employees.

The legislation would practically give absolute authority in promoting and co-ordinating social service endeavors in this state. The commission would be given a charter enabling it to investigate and pass upon the merits of campaigns or movements inaugurated to promote any social service or welfare work. The commission would have what amounts to full powers in passing upon the merits of any popular appeal that might be made to the public for funds for any social welfare endeavor.

LOCAL HIGH GIRLS WIN OVER ELLSWORTH

The Charleroi High girls met and defeated the Ellsworth High girls in a fast game at the local gym Tuesday evening, by a score of 18 to 10. Charleroi took the lead in the first quarter and held it throughout the game. Charleroi guarded closely and their opponents were unable to score a basket, all of their points being by Miss Pardini's foul shooting. The lineup and score:

Charleroi—13. Ellsworth—10.
Piersol, (Capt.).....F..... Davis
G. Piersol.....F..... A. Johnson
C. Gator.....C..... Willard
G. Lentz.....G..... Godfrey
D. Parks.....G..... Pardini
Substitutions—H. Johnson for Davis.
Goals—G. Piersol 2, E. Piersol.
Fouls—E. Piersol 7 out of 13; Pardini 10 out of 17.

Police Department Given Permission To Hold Victory Circus

WILL BE HERE WEEK OF 4TH

The regular monthly meeting of the borough council was held Tuesday evening at the borough building with all members present except Messrs. Lentz and Moody.

Ray Humbert was present and asked council to place some burned slate on Fourth street in order to improve the condition of that street. Council promised Mr. Humbert that his request will be taken care of.

A number of citizens who live on Lookout avenue were present and protested to council over the high cost of paving on Lookout avenue, also of the sidewalk. The protest was placed in the hands of the Claims committee. This street was paved in the early part of last year, when labor and material were at very high prices, and consequently it makes the assessments of the property owners much higher than usual.

Tax Collector Fred Brady presented a number of exonerations from the tax levy of 1918, which were placed in the hands of the Finance committee. It was remarked that Mr. Brady had made a splendid record in collecting the taxes of 1918, and little remaining outstanding at the present time.

In the matter of a sewer on Maple alley, near First alley, the request was placed in the hands of the street committee to make a complete investigation and to ascertain the approximate cost. This report will be made to council at a later date.

Mr. Hein reported a number of complaints about auto drivers who run their cars recklessly when passing the Ninth street school building. It is said there have been a number of narrow escapes from injury on the part of school children at that point, and it was decided that arrests should be made for any further infraction of traffic regulations at that point.

The ordinance committee was instructed to prepare an ordinance governing brokers. The idea is to have brokers make a report to the local police when any article of value is left with them to secure a loan.

The police department requested council to grant them permission to hold a Victory circus in Charleroi the week of the Fourth of July, the proceeds to go towards purchasing a new police patrol. The desired permission was given.

The usual monthly bills were ordered paid, and the reports of treasurer, collector and Burgess were also made, all of which were accepted and placed on file.

OUR TROOPS IN BERLIN

A dispatch from Copenhagen, Denmark, reports that American troops have arrived in Berlin and are being quartered in different hotels. These troops belong to the 113th Regiment made up of New Jersey troops, and their duty is the protection of expected food transports, a new agreement having been reached under which Germany is to get 235,000 tons of food at a cost of approximately $12,000,000.

This regiment sailed from Newport News, Va., for France, June 15, 1918. On August 8 it took over a sector of the battlefield opposite Mulhausen, in Alsace, where it remained for nearly six weeks, and about the middle of September it took an active part in the American offensive in the Argonne.

BONE DRY AT THE CORE

The six billion war revenue bill which President Wilson signed on board the train which took him from Boston to Washington last week, is an exceptionally important measure in many ways, but it has a peculiar interest for the nation at this time in that it carries a "rider" which makes the capital of the country immune from all traffic in liquor. If liquor shall still be brought into Washington it must be guarded against detection in such a manner that the smuggling of it cannot be made profitable. It is a great gain for prohibition that liquor has been banished from the national capital, even at that there are many who are willing to make the attempt of evading officers and get the article safely into the limits of Washington.

BOYS TAKE AN APPEAL TO COURT

Arthur Williams and Frank Alter, who were arrested early Sunday morning by Officer Corey, at the corner of Second street and Washington avenue, for turning in a false fire alarm, were arraigned before Justice Whitehead Tuesday evening. Fire Chief J. M. Fleming on information received, had made an information against the young men, charging them with violating the fire laws of Pennsylvania, in turning in an alarm of fire which was false. Attorney Roy Carson, for Attorney Hazzard of Monongahela appeared for the defendants and waived a hearing and asked to have the case taken to court. There was some question at first as to this procedure, but Attorney McCloskey representing the borough finally agreed to the appeal. The young men were taken to the Washington county jail this morning where they will remain until the next term of court, unless they should in the meantime be permitted their freedom under bail.

Paul Kubicek

Paul Kubicek, an Austrian, died Tuesday, March 4 at 10:40 a. m., at his home 915 Fallowfield avenue, aged 38 years. He is survived by a wife and one child in Austria. Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with interment in Charleroi cemetery.

Imitation Elks' Teeth

Imitation elks' teeth in large quantities recently have made their appearance in the local market to the alarm of jewelers who deal in the genuine article. Some of the bogus teeth are easily detected. Others made of bone or walrus tusks are fair imitations of the genuine. A sure test, the jewelers say, is to immerse the teeth in muriatic acid. The acid will bleach and roughen the better imitations and almost disintegrate the poorer ones.

Plants That Grow in Craters

In the crater of the extinct volcano, Hualakalau, in the Hawaiian islands, there flourishes a curious plant, locally known as "Silver Swords." They are evidently some kind of cacti. Efforts to propagate them elsewhere have, it is said, always failed. The crater where they are found is a huge cinder-strewn bowl, absolutely dry and devoid of any other form of vegetation.

KNICKERS AND HOBBLE SLOWS UP WORLD

The world is slowing up. Traffic men say so—especially in territories where trains, street cars and jitneys attempt to run on last year's schedules. "Sh—hh! The women are to blame. It's the new jersey silk 'knickers' which have joined with the new long tight skirts on the new spring styles. Knickers had to be. The skirts are so tight that the old full petticoat was impossible—so the jersey silk knickers are being worn. Here is the skirt—and the knickers."

Chinese Influence in Hawaii.
The Chinese first planted sugarcane at the "Crossroads of the Pacific" and manufactured sugar, and when the Hawaiians began to cease the cultivation of taro it was the Chinese who became the taro planters and the makers of poi—the staff of life of the native Hawaiian.

CURRENCY AUTHORITY SEES NO EXCUSE FOR FEAR OR PESSIMISM

WITH NATION'S BANKING STRENGTH GREATEST WORLD HAS KNOWN FUTURE CERTAIN TO BE BRIGHT.

THE power of a nation to build, progress, carry on industrially has long been measured by its banking strength. That measure reveals the United States the greatest power in the world—a fact that most of us accept without demonstration. Nevertheless, some of the Williams' fears are interesting.

The United States is at this time the greatest banking power in the world—possesses the greatest banking strength the world has ever known. This statement comes from John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency of the United States. "There is no gainsaying his authority. He is optimistic as to the reconstruction and as to the forthcoming Victory Liberty Loan."

World Has Not Seen Like.
"If such a reserve of money as no agency ever acquired since the world began," Williams said in a recent interview, "can bring assurance of a redemption of the activities of peace, then the immediate industrial future of the nation is bright. Our banking strength amounted at the termination of the last fiscal year to thirty-nine billion dollars. That figure may not mean much unless there are others with which to compare it. But when you look at the figure of a year earlier, thirty-four billion dollars, and when you turn back to 1914 and get the pre-war measure of our banking power, twenty-four billion, you begin to appreciate our present strength. There has never been anything in the world like it."

Raise Billion a Month.
"There is no excuse for fear or pessimism," continued Williams. "We have a vast load to carry and a vast strength with which to carry it. We raised in eighteen months of war eighteen billion dollars from the sale of Liberty Bonds and yet the deposits in our banks today are several billion dollars more than they were before we attempted to place the first Liberty Loan."

SECRETARY GLASS PUTS TO REST RUMORS THAT BEFOG VICTORY LOAN

TREASURY HEAD STATES DEFINITELY AGAIN THAT POPULAR DRIVE WILL BE UNDER TAKEN IN NATION THIS SPRING.

ES there will be a Fifth Liberty Loan—the Victory Liberty Loan.

Yes, it will be sold to the people just as the Fourth Loan was sold.

Yes, it will be sold in an intensive campaign beginning about the last week in April.

These three answers have been made by Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass to set at rest the many rumors which have been circulated rather widely relative to the forthcoming loan drive.

There have been erroneous stories circulated that the loan would be postponed a year, that the loan would be taken by the banks and not by the public and even stories to the effect that there was no need for another Liberty Loan and that the government had abandoned the idea.

Secretary Glass believed that these impressions should be corrected as speedily as possible as he wishes nothing to interfere with this last big opportunity for the real Americans to show themselves and manifest their readiness to help pay their government's debt of honor.

Religion Defined.
Definitions of religion run an extraordinary gamut, even when they are offered in the same hour and expressed in the same speech. Very lately, in print which is scarcely dry on the pages, this definition has issued from a philosopher's study: "Religion is the experience constituted by those thoughts, feelings and actions which spring from man's sense of dependence upon the power or powers controlling the universe, and which have as their center of interest the cosmic fortune of values." From the trenches, on the other hand, have been flung these molten words: "Religion is betting your life on the existence of God."—Anne C. E. Allinson in Atlantic Monthly.

WAS IN DANGER OF SERIOUS ILLNESS

James Duffy Of Pittsburgh Tells How Ten-Herbs Relieved Him.

"Little do we realize to what extent a seemingly slight illness might lead if neglected," said the Ten-Herbs man.

Take the case of Mr. James Duffy of No. 747 Reedsdale street, Pittsburgh, Pa., a boilermaker by trade, and a well known member of the Union. He has a host of friends in that city, having been a police officer in the First ward for a number of years. He states:

"For a number of years I have had catarrh of the stomach and was in constant pain; had shortness of breath, acidity of the stomach, headaches, dizzy spells, and severe pains around my heart, caused by gas in my system; I was always constipated, my liver was torpid and sluggish; I could never sleep at night and at times I could scarcely get my breath. I had taken a good many different medicines without any relief until I heard of Ten-Herbs and started to take it. Now I am glad to say I have no more indigestion—have a good appetite, sleep fine, and am not constipated. I feel that by taking Ten-Herbs in time I avoided a serious illness, as I was gradually getting worse all the time. I can't praise Ten-Herbs enough."

Ten-Herbs, the new herbal stomach liver and kidney remedy is perhaps doing more to relieve ills of this nature than any other preparation. It is the logical remedy to take, because being made of herbs, roots, barks and berries, it is pure and harmless and may be taken by old and young. Coming from mother earth it is nature's own remedy—the kind our forefathers used to take.

Ten-Herbs is sold in Charleroi at Hennings' Drug Store.

Now she is well. It is the greatest remedy I ever saw." Mr. Gibson made this statement before hundreds of people. Mrs. Florence Meager, 234 Whitney Street, Hartford, Conn., writes: "I have used your Antiseptic Oil for neuralgia with good effects. Only thing I have ever tried that stopped the pain instantly." Mrs. Williams, Gadsden, Ala., writes: "I have used your great pain oil for rheumatism, stiff joints, also for sore throat, and I want to say that it is the greatest remedy I ever tried. I recommend it to all sufferers." Many cures reported daily thousands of grateful users of this wonderful oil. TELLS OF TRIP ON THE RHINE RIVER

Sergeant Earl Strausser of Co. A, Fifth Field Battalion, Signal Corps American Expeditionary Forces, has written the following letter to his grandmother, Mrs. John Crites, of home to devote her time to nursing and the care of the sick and miserable. After becoming a directress in the Belgian hospital, while on a trip to her home in England she meets her former sweetheart who in the meantime had married. At the end of war his son enlists and is later reported missing. Returned to her post of duty Edith Cavell finds the boy and aids him to escape but is taken prisoner and made to confess. She is sentenced to death and was shot on the morning of October 12th, 1915.

We left the Signal School at Chetillon Sur Seine last Saturday morning, February 2nd, and got to Coblenz, Monday morning about 10 a. m. Did not get down to Andernach until about 9:30 that night; had 32 letters here for me when we came back and I sat up till one o'clock that night to read them all. It would take me six months to answer all those letters so I'll write one every once in awhile to make up for it if I can.

A bunch of us had a fine trip down the Rhine river today. Left here this morning on a fine boat and went to the city of Bonn, about 35 kilometers from here. The trip was conducted by the Y. M. C. A. One of them pointed out all the points of interest and told us what they were. We got off the boat at Bonn and nature of football than of basketball. We went out into the town. The first and most interesting place we went to was the house where the great composer Beethoven was born and lived and maybe died for all I know. We saw the room where he was born, a lot of the original copies of his music, his old piano and his organ and all the old things he used. It was very interesting, but would have been more so for a musician.

We also saw the University where the old Kaiser was educated. Bonn is a very nice city of about 85,000 people, and the British soldiers are doing occupational duty there. They sure are lucky to have such a nice city to stay in while in this country. Came back on the boat at 12:45 and had a fine dinner. The band played a lot of good music on the trip, back up the river, and with a bright sunny afternoon we had a very good time.

I received the papers that you sent and was glad to get them; always are you may be sure, and also was very glad to get the cards of the old home town. I am glad to know you are all well. From your loving grandson, Earl.

PAUL URBEN WRITES OF DUTY IN CUBA

Paul F. Urban writes the Mail from his station in Cuba as follows:

Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, February 23, 1919.—I am in receipt of the Mail, and I wish to thank you. I have been receiving it regularly for the past two weeks and surely do appreciate the good news from home.

As far as I am concerned there could be nothing better in the line of health and spirits for myself and this outfit; and as to Cuba, there is nothing to it. Havana is a wonderful city and the only place in Cuba. Outside of it there is not a place I would live in. And as far as countries are concerned, I will take the good old U. S. A. for mine. All you see here are spicks and huts, but among the higher class of people you will find state such as city, county, town or village, and the District of Columbia. Interest on obligations of the United States is exempt, except that interest on obligations issued after September 11, 1917, is exempt only to the extent provided in the Liberty loan acts.

The sailors and marines down here are disregarded ever since the Spanish-American war and also American industry. They pass you by and never look or talk to a man in uniform, as much as to say, "You are not in my class."

Our company, which is composed of 115 men, do guard duty every other day, besides drilling, including signal drills and Morse code, dot and dash.

Last night, Washington's birthday, was spent at a boxing show held by the First Regiment. It sure was great; two knockouts in eight bouts. The band they have here is considered the prize winning band of the marine corps and the army.

Well, "chow" is ready, so I will wish you luck and happiness.

Yours truly
Paul F. Urban.

THE WOMAN WHO WAS SHOT BY THE GERMANS

Friday and Saturday of this week the dramatic story of the "Cavell Case" will be shown at the Majestic Theatre. The story of Edith Cavell is one of the best known and most tragic of the many happenings of the great world war. It is the story of a young girl who gave up love and home to devote her time to nursing and the care of the sick and miser-

HOMESTEAD TAKES GAME FROM CHARLEROI

Homestead's representatives in the W. P. O. A. league took Charleroi's measure in a fast and somewhat furious game on the local gymnasium floor last evening. The final score was 38 to 33. There were times when the contest assumed more the nature of football than of basketball. Charleroi was minus the services of two of its best players, Weaver and Brown. Had they been available to the team, chances are that a different result would have ensued. The Homestead team is an extremely agile combination, one well versed in the intricacies of basket ball, and a foeman worthy the steel of an aggregation which has appeared on the local floor this season. Notwithstanding this fact, the visitors were compelled to travel at top speed, throughout the game, to beat the locals. Straka and O'Donovan starred for the visitors, while Wagner, Glunt and Lowstuter did well for Charleroi. The line-up:

Charleroi	Homestead
Glunt	O'Donovan
Wagner	F
Schmieler	C
Lowstuter	G
McKenna	Dugan

Substitutions—None. Field goals—Glunt 4, Wagner 2, Lowstuter 2, Schmieler, O'Donovan 5, Straka 5, Montrose. Fouls—Wagner, 15 out of 22; O'Donovan, 16 out of 27. Referee—Houseknecht.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR JOHN KRAUS

Funeral services for John Kraus, who died from injuries received Monday evening, will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, at St. Jerome's church, with interment to follow in Monongahela cemetery.

"GROSS INCOMES" AND REVENUE TAX

Act of July 17, 1916. Amounts received through accident or health insurance, or under work of health and spirits for myself and this outfit; and as to Cuba, there is nothing to it. Opens New Offices.

Harry Balis, Esq., has opened offices in the Majestic Theatre building where he will conduct a general law business.

The fire department was called out this morning about 9 o'clock by a small fire at the Hancock home on Lookout avenue. The fire was in the basement, which was put out with little damage.

WOULD AUTHORIZE MEMORIAL HALLS

A bill authorizing the construction by counties of memorial halls to be history of soldiers, sailors and marines was offered in the Legislature at Harrisburg on Monday by Representative David M. Currin of Washington county. Such memorials could be erected to the veterans of any war in which America participated, provided two successive grand juries and the court approve the building. Buildings and grounds might be condemned and the county commissioners would be authorized to accept donations from individuals or organizations.

Says Mag-Rhu Is Doing More for Stomach Sufferers Than Any Other Remedy

Be Sure to Visit Piper's Drug Store This Week and Have a Talk With Mrs. Beck, The Mag-Rhu Woman. She Will Be There all Week from Monday, March 3 to Saturday March 8

Mrs. Josephine Beck, 52 Lawrence street, Millvale, Pa., who has been handling remedies and coming in direct touch with people for sixteen years claims that Mag Rhu is relieving more stomach sufferers and is giving better satisfaction than any remedy she has ever sold. Mrs. Beck is very grateful and happy to recommend Mag Rhu to her thousands of customers and friends. As most all stomach remedies either contain alcohol or harmful poisonous drugs, Mrs. Beck says that from now on she will only recommend and sell May Rhu, which contains neither alcohol nor harmful drugs.

Mag Rhu is a guaranteed remedy for permanent relief of all kinds of stomach trouble—Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Bloat, Zechings, Sour and Gassy Stomach, Heavy Dull Feeling After Eating, Dizziness, Stomach Pains.

Prompt results in cases of long standing, when everything else you have tried has failed. One box will convince you of its merits. Price of box refunded if, after a thorough trial according to directions, you do not get results.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking aside all digestive aids and instead get from your druggist a few ounces of Eucalypti Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Eucalypti Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, expensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

DREARY ROUND OF MONOTONY

Sample of Terrible Price That Is Sometimes Demanded by the Moloch of Modern Industry.

His face always wore the same expression—the look of the stoker who comes to the deck for a breath of fresh air. His business was, once every second, to give a certain machine a twist in order that a piece of wire might bend into a circle. He had done this sort of thing so long that two fingers had acquired a peculiar hardened curvature. One shoulder was lower than the other. He knew no other business.

It seems that the man had had an unusual boyhood. While others were at their sport, his hours were spent in passionate reverie. The literature of romantic chivalry, the story of followers of the Cross, the fine heroism of soul-starving deeds for others claimed him and made him tremulous with aspiration. He knew of nothing larger, more captivating for him than a life eked out in some remote field of self-sacrifice for the redemption of the human race. And to this he pledged himself. But then his father died. Ruin was the specter at the funeral feast. An unnamed Nemesis pursued him, try as he might to keep faith with himself and the call of mortal hunger. Self-sacrifice.

Yes, the screw-eye is a very useful article.—Boston Transcript.

FOOD FOR ALL THE WORLD

No Fear of Starvation While the Banana Grows With Its Present Wonderful Prodigality.

Concerning the value of banana flour there is no possible question. Henry M. Stanley, while he was in Darkest Africa, tested that matter thoroughly. For something like two years it was one of the staple foods on which he lived, and his testimony regarding it is both clear and convincing, though the flour he had was made in the most primitive fashion, by the natives among whom he was living, and was not comparable, save in the single particular of cost, with the flour that has been produced and is being produced today in New York city.

The world's available supply of bananas is practically inexhaustible. Growing wild as the banana does with all the excessive prodigality of tropical vegetation, in localities far outside the ken of civilization, there is no way of estimating the possible extent of the annual crop, but it may be said that enough bananas to feed the world grow somewhere each year.

Moreover, modern science has discovered the methods by which this banana flour can be made of the partially ripe fruit in such fashion that it will keep almost indefinitely almost anywhere.

Mending a Sagging Door.

It ruffled the tidy nature of the handy man to have to pull and jerk at his door to open it, and then to have to coax and push to shut it. A door should fit in its frame, like a stopper in a bottle, he thought. A cursory examination disclosed that it struck at the bottom. Of course, if the swelling had been at the top, it would have been so easy just to plane off the surplus. But, at the bottom! He tried tightening the screws in the upper hinge, which were quite loose, but found the wood so soft that even longer screws would not hold. There seemed to be nothing to do but remove the upper hinge, dig out the soft wood and insert in its place a piece of new wood, which held the hinge screws firmly and prevented the door from sagging.

Maxims for Marksmen.

It is strange that the novice will almost invariably try to hit the bull's eye of a swinging target when it is at the center or in the lowest position. This is decidedly the incorrect method. The expert knows that the time to shoot is at the end of the swing. In fact, anyone will arrive ultimately at the same conclusion, for a little thought will convince him that a target is the more easily hit when at a standstill, or at the end of a vibration.

The moving target as a rule has the largest bull's eye, and is often one of the easiest to strike, if you happen to know how.

Simply aim at the point where the center of the target stops, and wait till it returns. Then, bang!

Raven Not Extinct in England.

The assertion, made in some London papers, that the raven is practically extinct in England, has been denied by a dweller on Exmoor. The raven, according to this bird watcher, is by no means rare in Somerset, where he is often seen and heard. The story of his having a dummy nest to mislead marauders is due to a misunderstanding of the bird's habit of sometimes building a new nest instead of repairing the old one. Ravens have a place in many old legends in Europe, and cannot be spared any more than can the stork of Alsace and Lorraine.

Conlin (visiting sick friend, solemnly)—"Don't think I'm lookin' fr th' worst 't happen, Dinny, but it's fr yer own good I'm asking it—are ye prepared?"

Slavin (very deliberately)—"Tis sorry I am 't say I'm not, Terence, but as ye'll be good enough 't call ag'in tomorrow I'll guar-antee 't have a trick handy, 't's domb crape hanger!"—Buffalo Express.

Scholar and Farm.

For an absurdly long time the delusion has filled many minds that the uneducated yearn more for a life in the country, but this is quite untrue. On the contrary, the refined mind most naturally seeks the seclusion and harmony of nature. "I know it is the fashion for people of wealth to own a farm," says Professor Hyman, according to Countryside, "but the opinion prevails in the minds of foolish persons that it is degrading actually to labor with the lands. How many teachers feel that it is unorthodox to do any but sedentary work, and leave a large life insurance to support the family? My personal conviction running in the transverse direction, I merely followed it. It is well I did so before sacrificing my vitality to a point where labor would not be a pleasure. Too often, lack of physical vigor and courage make country life impracticable and impossible."

Plymouth People.

After the founding of Massachusetts and other New England colonies, Plymouth had a very quiet and successful life, writes Roland G. Usher in "The Story of the Pilgrims for Children." Not a great deal happened there in which you would now be interested. The days of hard times were over. They had now plenty of food and all kinds of it. They had enough now to buy little luxuries in England and have them brought over, but they chiefly ate food which they raised themselves. Baked beans with pork and brown bread were eaten at Plymouth in these first days. So was hardy pudding, made of cornmeal, and all sorts of corn breads. Soups of peas and beans were made. But they did not have in those days pie, or plum pudding or cranberry sauce.

Arch a Clever Shipbuilder.

Arch a Clever Shipbuilder. The presence of a shipbuilder is found in an allusion to his ark in Nauticus. "It would not be a difficult task," says that journal, "to pick out of Lloyd's Register many ships built within the last 20 years whose dimensions suggest a form closely resembling that of Noah's ark. According to the dimensions given in the Bible, as translated in terms of modern measurement, the ark was 460 feet long, 80 feet wide, and 48 feet deep. Her tonnage was 11,412, and she had plenty of room for pairs of all the distinct species of animals that are classed by Buffon, 244, and she could have accommodated a thousand persons and then had plenty of room for the storage of supplies."

Noiseless Workers.

Nature is a noiseless worker. You cannot hear the pumps which are sending the sap from the roots of the great oak tree into its topmost twig, but they are busy day and night, just the same. You may lie with your ear to the ground, but you will listen vainly for any rustling as the grass and weeds and flowers rise from the winter's long bivouac and fall into line. The apple tree sounds no trumpets, but how beautiful the banners she throws to the breeze. And all this noiseless activity brings home the truth some of you have already discovered, that the workers who make the most noise are not necessarily the ones who accomplish the most.—Girl's Companion.

Playful Snakes.

Every wild thing has its playful moments—even a deadly snake. writes a correspondent in the Australian Bulletin. On one expedition I caught a black fellow about five feet long disporting itself in a shallow surface pool. The reptile had a water-lily stem in its jaws, and was dragging and tossing it about much after the fashion in which a kitten plays with a ball of wool. A snake, too, which has caught a frog usually carries the squealing amphibian about for some time before swallowing it. This procedure, of course, is partly for purposes of salivation, but it displays also a certain pride in prowess akin to that of a cat with a freshly-caught mouse.

Moon Superstition.

In China moon worship still exists. There they say that the man in the moon arranges marriages and ties together with a silken cord the youths and maidens whom he intends to unite. In all probability the man in the moon is the creator of the honeymoon. Samcan Islanders believe that the moon came down one night and stole the woman Sina, working in the twilight. Never able to return to earth, you can see her now in the moon, with her mallet and the board on which she was beating out bark to make cloth. It is true that about nine days after the new moon a pretty, unmistakably feminine face appears on the western half of the disk.

Good Advice to Fathers.

Bishop Moreland once related the incident of an American millionaire who was congratulated on his world-wide success, and replied bitterly, "What's the use of it all, when your son is a fool?" He had been too busy making money and indulging his family to get close to his own boy. In contrast was the clergyman with seven sons, who was honored with a doctor's degree by a western college because he had reared so fine a family. He commended the business man who went home daily at four o'clock in the afternoon for a game of ball with his son. The bishop urged the men present to be the big brother of their boys.

Very Sound Asleep.

Two men had argued about politics until at length they had come to blows. "Sir," said one with dignity, "you have called me a knave and a fool, you have broken my spectacles, you have punched me twice. I hope you will not rouse the sleeping lion in my breast, for if you should, I cannot tell what may be the consequences."

Scan Well the "Printed Page."

The fact that we read from a printed page sometimes gives a false authority to the thoughts expressed. We remember Ibsen's indignation, in Kipling's story, when he discovered that Yates had lied "in print." "Have a vigilant eye," says Milton, "how Bookes demean themselves as well as men, and do sharpest justice on them as malefactors."

First Senate Chaplain.

The first chaplain of the United States senate was Rev. Samuel Provost of the Episcopal church and bishop of New York. The first chaplain of the house of representatives was Rev. William Lynn of the Presbyterian church. Both officiated in the first congress organized after the adoption of the Constitution.

Try to Read Wisely.

The habit of reading wisely is by no means an easy one to acquire, but unless acquired, the mind is likely to become so cloyed with literary sweetmeats or satiated with academic treatises that it revolts indignantly, and for the time at least refuses to respond to the demands which habit places upon it.

Must Have Proper Foundation.

The flowers of rhetoric are only acceptable when backed by the evergreens of truth and sense. The granite statue, rough hewn though it be, is far more imposing in its simple and stern thought, rude proportions, than the plaster cast, however elaborately wrought and gilded.—Macgillivray.

Persons to Avoid.

Unwelcome are the loiterer, who makes appointments he never keeps; the consultant, who asks advice he never follows; the boaster, who seeks for praise he does not merit; the complainer, who whines only to be pitted; the talker, who talks only because he loves to talk always.—Selected.

"BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SAWYER, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter to show that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice in regard to such ailments write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its forty years experience is at your service.
